Metrovision Launches Perimeter in US Market

By Jerry Helzner, contributing editor December 1, 2018

■ French company Metrovision has entered the US market with its top-of-the line MonCvONE line of perimeters. In addition to matching other perimeters feature for feature, Metrovision says the MonCvONE has 18 additional features like Goldmann perimetry; the ability to measure at photopic, mesopic, and scotopic levels; pupillometry; and binocular synchronized video imaging. Metrovision also announced an agreement with Philadelphia-based SRD Vision, LLC, to represent Metrovision in the United States and distribute the product.
